

No electricity? No problem

Don't give up opening or closing your gate in the event of a power failure: each of our automations is equipped with a manual key release system so that your safety is always guaranteed, even in the event of a blackout.

